

StoryMode

In this game you will join forces with your friends/random strangers, to create a story of epic, or dismal, proportions. What is your objective? To accumulate points until you reach the score required to win the game (the max-score is set by the host of the room).

At the start of the game, a random turn order is selected. In every round players will submit phrases to the story master. The phrase that is selected by the story master will be added to the current story, and whoever submitted the winning phrase will earn a point. The role of the story master rotates throughout all of the players in a round-robin fashion.

FAQ:

How do I know who the story master is?

His/her name is displayed at the bottom-middle of the screen, underneath "Story Master."

Where are my current points displayed?

They can be viewed at the bottom left hand corner of the screen, underneath "My Score."

How many points do I need to win the game?

This information is at the bottom-right hand corner of the screen, underneath "Max Score."